

Easter Eggs?

David J Roll

March 21, 2011

Why are churches holding Easter egg hunts? Shame on us as a church! Jesus was resurrected during Passover, not pagan Easter, which is a pagan holiday. If I want to eat eggs they will be scrambled, or as egg salad and I will, most likely, get them at a grocery store; not hunt them in a yard or field. Are we as a people so accommodating we accept an aberration such as a rabbit laying eggs? The very foundation of Christianity is Jesus being crucified and resurrected from the dead, on our behalf, He being the atonement for sin. I deplore the desecration by man of a holy move of God by their inclusion of the absurd notion of 'rabbit eggs' in the festivities. I am excited and enthused by what God did for me through His Son Jesus by the power of His Holy Spirit, not in how many painted eggs I can find!