Ribbon of Walkway

During the night vision I dreamt the following:

I walked along a slightly winding walk of concrete. The walk was approximately four inches thick and seamless.

As I walked I saw the overcast sky was a dark Gray color. I looked to the horizon and saw the silhouette of the city. The buildings were jagged against the sky and showed signs of being burned and destroyed by something. Walls were fallen. No other person was seen anywhere. The entire situation was desolate. As I walked I wondered after the scene.

When I awoke, I knew the meaning. There will be a terrible destruction as noted by the buildings. The walk upon which I tread symbolized the walk of the Christian. The walk is unblemished, unmarred, as the person has placed his/her trust in Almighty God to save them. I saw the evidence of the destruction, but the true believing Christian is spared.
