

SNIPPIT

November 10, 2012

Israel

What is my post-election game plan? My family and I will continue praying the enemy is discomfitted to confusion. We will continue to pray the blinders are dropped by those who believe the lie which was foisted upon them. We will continue to pray for a dynamic move of the sovereign God in the form of a revival across the land. We will spare not. God wins whether people believe in Him or not, and by the Spirit of God we will continue to be on His side